of Yelandur, with a file Vera paper

Makes a report in the matter, and states that as there is a Govt Panchama School already existing in the village, it is neither <sup>necessary</sup> ~~neither~~ nor expedient to let a Mission rival spring into existence or to give room for needless friction and irritation in the village

It is also stated that even the little outlay incurred in sinking the foundation could have been avoided by the Mission authorities had they only waited the result of their appeal for permission to build the school

The Jahgirdar considers that the Govt-Panchama School recently started fully meets the requirements of the village, is well attended and most promising. He is not inclined to allow a Mission rival to spring

needless friction and irritation in the village

11 The Missionary gentleman thinks that that the parials are such a large community in the village that there is ample room for two schools and moreover the Govt. school is only of recent origin

11 The local inquiry conducted by the Amildar having also elicited the fact that the villagers are not in favour of a Mission school being started, the Jagirdar apparently proposes to issue orders declining to give the Missionary gentleman license to build a school house in the village site, which is also stated to be open to the at some objection ~~being raised~~ as inconvenient religious processions &c. The Jagirdar has not yet issued a final order but has sent the entire correspondence for the perusal of Govt., as desired

12 This does not seem to be a case in which Govt. can or need interfere, especially at this stage

13 On the merits, it is not clear whether the jagirdar (or by Govt if Maamballa had not been a jagir village) to a person for private land included in the village site.

The matter is one between the Jagirdar & the Applicant We can hardly assume appellate jurisdiction in such matters; nor would we be justifified in interfering unless the Case is taken to be one of any political importance

15 I would on the whole advise the Pat<sup>r</sup> that the question between the jagirdar & himself is one of the nature of a private dispute, in which terfere ( & that if he writes to the Jageydar again, the latter may perhaps be able to arrive at a satisfactory compromise ) as the difficulty seems to be that there is some local feeling about the location of the school )

16 The papers may be de-officially returned to the Jahgirdar with a hint that the Sanitary Rules hardly apply to such a case, and that perhaps a satisfactory compromise may be arrived at by the local <sup>10</sup> The Secretary of Mysore for

Revenue, State Department
Mangalore

Dear Sir,

With the permission of the Dewan whom I had the favour of an interview with during the month of July in Ootacamund. I beg to bring to your notice the following matter, which I trust will receive your favourable consideration.

In the village of Maambhale, Jellandur Jagti a piece of land was obtained for the purpose of building a Mulhnan School for the help of the Pauchanas on Feb 20th 1912, the foundation of the same was gone on with. When for some reason or other (regarding which I have not received no official intimation) the work was not allowed to be gone on with.
A license was applied for from the Amildar to be allowed to erect the schoolroom on April 13th 1912 but to this we have received no reply.

When our workmen attempted to proceed with the building, they were stopped by the Police and village officials.

The Jaghidas of Jellandur had communicated with, in fact 4 or 5 times correspondence has passed to & from him - up to the present date nothing definite had been settled in this matter.

So far over 100 Rs have been expended in staking the foundations & building the basement, we have sought to follow out the rules connected with the erection of such buildings, our request is that we might have further shewn to us, the Pauchanas of Maambhale have of their own desire asked us to erect the school for the benefit of their children.

The site chosen for the erection of the school-room is well situated, being 2

Near to the Main Road, outside the village & near to the Pariah Patta. From personal enquiry, the only objection that the Caste people make is that because their gods are carried in procession along the road where the school-room will be near them, we'll not agree to its being put up.

This objection is absurd as the Pariah Patta itself opens on to this main road, moreover the Pariahs themselves are connected with these processions & bring their gifts to the god. Again the road is a government one, connecting Kallagol with Chamaraj Nagar.

There appears to be a Government Pariah School recently commenced in the village but as the Pariahs are such a large community, there is ample room for two schools.
Moreover this Gov School is only of recent origin.

The Mysore Government at the present time is seeking to press education in every possible way among the depressed classes & we are seeking to help in the same way.

In closing I beg to state that it was for no way our desire to appeal to the Mysore Gov in this small matter, but seeing that we have no indication of help from the Janghadas of Yellandur we have felt bound to do so.

I beg to remain Dear Sir

Yours truly

Manikur Lame

My dear sir,

With reference to your D O No 1988 dated 18th idem forwarding therewith a copy of the letter dated 24th July last from Mr Frank McLaine, Mission Bungalow, Kollegal, regarding the construction of a building for the Mission Panchama School at Mamballi and asking me to inform you how the matter stands as between me and the petitioner. I have to request for your kindly submitting the following facts to Government -

* N

- (a) It was some six months prior to the formal declaration of my succession to the Jaghir that one Chickabasava had<sup>x</sup> applied to the Taluk Amildar for permission being granted to build school house for the use of the Panchama children of the Mamballi village on a site of which he was not the khatedar. During the preliminary enquiry by the Hobli Shekdat the petitioner pleaded his inability to build it at his own cost and said that the Missionaries of Kollegal would do it as he had made over his interest in the site in their favour free of all charges.
- (b) Then Mr E Lynn opened the correspondence on the subject first with the Amildar and then with me with the result that I myself went to Mamballi with the Missionary Gentlemen in December 1912 and inspected the site. It was then represented to me that the location of the Panchama school in the proposed site would interfere with the procession of the village God and so forth. As I wished to let the moment of feeling pass away I did not press the question any further and gave necessary instructions to the Amildar to do the needful. Subsequently the Shekdar went there for drawing up the Mahazar but reported that the villagers were unwilling to have a Mission School as judged by their conduct &c. Thereupon I had to issue a stiff order<sup>x</sup> to the Amildar that in an important matter like the one under reference he should himself go to the village village, hold necessary enquiry and submit his final report in the matter In the meantime a Government Panchama School was started and has since been reported to be best attended and most promising

Xp (c) I am now in receipt of the Amildar's<sup>X</sup> report No 1148 dated 30th June 1913 stating that he went to the village on the 15th June last, sent for the local sowcars, leading ryots and Pnachamas and found that they all considered a Mission Panchama school as quite unnecessary as there was a Government Panchama School already in existence in the village-vide the Mahajar in the enclosed file of correspondence on the subject

(d) In these circumstances I consider it neither necessary nor expedient to let a Mission rival spring into existence or to give room for needless friction and irritation in the village Even the little outlay incurred in sinking the foundation the Mission Authorities could well have avoided if they had only waited the result of the application they had made for permission to build the school

The enclosed file may obligingly be returned after it is no longer required for reference

Yours sincerely,

Hacasmelbubruaya
